

Let's not get carried away. The more public information from all sources we get, the better - is "democratic" a dirty word in a Republican administration? Monopoly is not the way to go, and will simply add more needless paranoia.